

ahm OSHC Collection Statement

Declaration

You are applying for an Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) policy with Medibank Private Limited ABN 47 080 890 259 trading as ahm (ahm). You declare that:

- you are the primary visa holder, and your visa status allows you to apply for this policy;
- all statements made in this application are true, accurate and complete, and to the extent this is not the case, ahm may refuse payment of benefits; and
- you agree to be bound by the ahm OSHC Member Guide, as amended from time to time.

Privacy Collection Notice

ahm will handle the personal (including sensitive) information of each member on this policy as described in the ahm Privacy Policy, including:

- using the member's information to process this application, provide the OSHC insurance services, analysing and improving our services, audits, fraud detection and the other purposes described in the Privacy Policy (if we do not collect the member's information, we cannot provide the OSHC Policy); and
- sharing the members' information with your agents, advisors, brokers, educational institution(s), the Australian Government (to confirm and administer your OSHC policy), and other people as described in the Privacy Policy.

You (the policy holder):

- agree to your personal information being handled as described above; and
- confirm (as applicable) that you have shown the other members on the policy this privacy notice, and they also agree to the handling of their personal information as described above.

Marketing

By continuing, you confirm that you, and the other members on this Policy, agree to ahm sending you general and personalised news, offers, and promotions from the Medibank Group by email, SMS, app notifications, digital advertising or other means. This may include health-related content, surveys, insurance, and partner offers, which may be personalised using your personal information. You can opt out of marketing email or phone communications after your membership has been processed by contacting us or unsubscribing via the link in our communications.
